THE SUGAR CALL.
New forests call, and voices call,
And whisper in the wood,
Oh, hurry, hurry, hurry,
Here's a sugar call to you,
Oh, hurry, hurry, hurry,
Along the river, down the stream,
The sugar call is coming true,
In March's sunny days,
The forest is playing through,
The dead leaves in the wood,
Oh, hurry, hurry, hurry,
Preparing time to go,
Oh, hurry, hurry, hurry,
The snow is melting fast,
The time is golden now,
With voices in the wood,
Hurry.

THE SUGAR CALL

Now flickers call, and robins call,
And bluebirds in the wood,
"Oh, hurry, hurry, hurry!"
Here's sugar that is good.
Oh, hurry, hurry, hurry!
Bring buckets, spouts, and spoon.
The maple sap is running free
In March's sunny noons.
Hepaticas are peeping through
The dead leaves in the wood.
Oh, hurry, hurry, hurry!
Sugaring time is good.
Oh, hurry, hurry, hurry!
The snow is melting fast.
The time to gather sugar
Will soon be quickly past."

How to Catch a Leprechaun

On St. Patrick's Day go outside of the it rains and look for a rainbow. Then go back inside and get a jar and a trap. Then go to the end of the rainbow and set the trap. Put the rope on the trap so he can not run away. Then hide in the forest. Wait until you can see him. Watch him because he is magic and he might play a trick. Catch him when he comes back for the gold. When you get him, take him back to a secret camp.

You'll never catch me!

How to Catch a Leprechaun

Once upon a time there was a little girl and a little boy and it was the day before St. Patrick's Day. They decided to catch a leprechaun.
They got a can and some bottles and made traps. The next morning they got up and they heard something in the can. It was a leprechaun. They asked it where the gold was. He said it was a secret. He told them it was in their back yard and that he gave it to a cat with an X on it. So they got their pick and when they got outside all the cats had X's on them.
This was a trick. Finally they saw a cat that did not have an X on it. So they dug at it with their picks and made their leprechaun the gold. The leprechaun thought that they would never find his gold. But they did!

Very nice writing!
